Globus Relief will distribute the products among a number of worthy causes, including the relief efforts in Haiti, international hospitals and clinics, international surgical missions, U.S. health programs and other projects with immediate needs.

Cases By Source is proud to make this first donation of 2010, which also serves as the initiation of a corporate program whereby the company will continue to support charities and causes. Upon announcement of the program in December 2009, Alan Adler, President of Cases By Source, said, “At Source, we are not only passionate about what we do, but we are also passionate about helping others.
